

PORTUGUESE TAKE FIRST GAME OF PENNANT SERIES WITH TENTH INNING WIN

Scott Pitches No-Hit Game That Is Full of Thrills and Snappy Plays from First to Last—Hawais Make Splendid Fight but Paresa's Men Are Capable of Supreme Effort at Right Time—Rain Falls to Dampen Enthusiasm of the Crowd

BY LAURENCE REDINGTON.
Portuguese 5, Hawaii 2, 10 innings.
There were so many features to the first game of the Oahu league pennant series, between the Portuguese and Hawaii, played under leaky skies at Athletic Park yesterday afternoon, that opinion may differ as to what was the real class of the contest. A vote of random on this question would be interesting, and it would probably result in a landslide of ballots for Scott.

Scott pitched for the Portuguese. He went the full 10 innings without a hit being collected off his delivery. He struck out 13 of the opposing batters. He got first by being hit with the ball in the ninth inning, stole second, and in doing so jammed his face right into Vernon Ayau's spikes, mauling his chin and jaw in a highly unpleasant manner. Then, with the score 2 to 2, and the Hawaii at bat in the last of the ninth in a desperate effort to elude a man across with the winning run, Scott appeared on the mound with his face in a bandage, and in the ninth and tenth frames retired the first six men that faced him, striking out four, assisting in the play that retired another at first, and feeding a ball to one batter that resulted in a long fly to center. That is some record for a hurler and Scott fully deserved the ovation that was given him at the close of the game, when he was lifted high on the shoulders of his team-mates and admirers and carried off the field. On the debit side of the ledger are six bases on balls, two of which were given to the first two men up in the first inning, both of whom eventually crossed the rubber for the Hawaii's two runs. Game a hummer.

The Portuguese-Hawaii game was a hummer and brought out some of the cleanest and most exciting baseball seen on a local lot for many a month. It happened to be the third consecutive game in two days in which the score was tied in the ninth, the second to go extra innings with the side last at bat finally losing. That these three games, all keenly contested and full of interest right up to the last ball pitched, should have come off in succession, in itself is itself something in the way of a record. Certainly the regulars have had the season's worth of the last two days.

The ninth was the crucial inning. Barney Joy, who had only been touched for two hits up to that time, and who had been pitching all ball soaked Scott, first man up with the ball. The latter stole second, as above told, and after the extent of his injuries had been ascertained, and he had been hauled off the field, leaving Bushnell as substitute runner. Joy proceeded to pass Swinton. Bushnell stole third.

At this point there broke one of the rain squalls that had been driving the spectators to cover from time to time during the afternoon, and the Hawaii put up a hard fight to have the game called. This umpire Swinton very properly refused to do, and after some talk Joy resigned the pitcher's job to Alex Desha. Alex started off by tanning Sousa, but Swinton managed to draw a throw by starting to steal, and Bushnell dashed across with the tying run, while Swinton was also safe at second. The decision at the plate was close but there was no question about Bushnell's being safe, as he made a beautiful slide in under the throw. Swinton, who had been quite a feature of the game himself, was careless around the keystone sack, and was caught off, making the second out. "Home Run" La Mere was at bat, and when Desha fed him one of the low, wide ones that he likes, slapped the ball over the fence. It was foul by a foot or so, but there was enough doubt to give La Mere the opportunity for a wall of anguish when he completed the circuit and was told to take up his bat again. He ended the inning by grounding out, second to first.

Scott Still Effective.
The first two batters that faced the bandaged Mr. Scott, who looked like a hold-up man with a handkerchief knotted around the lower part of his face, whiffed, and the third sent up a long fly which Swinton gathered in near the fence after a grand run. The tenth inning was a bad one for Desha, who pitched 10 consecutive balls, giving Mr. Ornellas and Williamson their bases, and putting himself in the hole pitched to Bushnell. The latter advanced both men with a sacrifice, pitcher to first, and J. Ornellas cleaned up the bases with a lovely two-bagger to right center. Scott fled to Ayau, and Swinton scored Ornellas with a nice hit down the right foul line. Swinton was again caught napping on the paths, this time between first and second. The Hawaii had a mighty slim chance with three runs needed to tie, and with Scott still shooting 'em over in style. Asam grounded out, pitcher to first, and both Ah Toon and Captain Dave Desha indignantly struck out.

Both the Hawaii runs came in the first inning, without the aid of a hit, but three passes and three stolen bases cut a figure in the accumulation. The Portuguese also started their runs in the first with a base on balls, Williamson drawing four wide ones, going down the line on a passed ball, and scouring when Sousa failed to handle the wet ball properly on J. Ornellas' grounder.

Swinton, the veteran of the 25th infantry, who has been playing on the regimental team for more than 20 years, was probably the fielding star of the day. He caught two men off second by sacking at, on them, once with the ball concealed and the other time taking the throw. He made a magnificent catch of Asam's short fly in the seventh, running in at top speed and diving at the ball just before it landed. Swinton rolled over and over, tossing the ball to Ayau while he was somersaulting so that there could be no mistake about his having held it. He made another mighty good catch in the ninth.

From the second to the ninth inclusive, the fielding was very snappy, and although both pitchers were in bad holes at times, Joy in the third and Scott in the fourth, both managed to tighten up and shut off runs.

FORT ARMSTRONG BEATS KAM TEAM

The baseball team of the 104th company, stationed at Fort Armstrong, added another victory to its already long list by defeating the Kamehameha post team Saturday by a 5 to 4 score. Even the hurling of the mighty Lawson couldn't stop the town runners. The pitching of Harris and the batting of Talbot were the features.

Next Saturday the 104th company will play the regimental team of the 2d infantry. The Fort Armstrong men are also looking for a game with the 25th infantry.

CHINESE HAVE A CLOSE CALL IN 11-INNING GAME

All-Chinese 8, Punahou A. C. 3, 11 innings.

Al Castle is certainly an unlucky pitcher. If his team makes an error behind him, that error is sure to let in the run that wins the game, and if one of his players goes to sleep on the bases and is caught, the next man is sure to line out the hit that would have brought him home with the winning run. There's not a player in the territory who works any harder than Castle, but some way or other the horse shoes aren't pointed his way.

After tying up the score in the ninth in sensational style, and blanketing the Chinese in the tenth, the Punahou amateurs got their good and plenty in the first half of the eleventh, when five Chinese players crossed the rubber in monotonous succession. It was a mighty hard game to lose and a mighty good one to watch and a good-sized Saturday crowd enjoyed the sport at Athletic Park. Sam Hop & Co. had one of the closest calls of the year, and although they won by the big margin of five runs, they didn't rest easy until the procession of tallies was well along.

Ninth Exciting.

As in yesterday's Portuguese-Hawaii game, the ninth inning was the thriller. Castle got a base on balls, Dwyer fanned, and Sadler was given life on the fielder's choice that retired Castle at second. With two out and two strikes on him, Cyril Hoogs combed out a mighty aw that landed far along the left foul line scarcely six inches off the fair side of it. Sadler, who had stolen a base, scoring on the hit. Had Hoogs been content to stay at second, from where he could have scored if Lyman, the next man up connected for a hit, there might have been a different result to the game. Hoogs, however, tried to stretch the hit, and was caught a mile off third, retiring the side. This gave the Chinese an opportunity to warm up Foster Robinson, and substitute him for Apau in the next frame. Had Hoogs been safe at second there was a good chance of another hard hit being collected off Apau, who was showing signs of distress. Besides getting the hit that tied the score, Cyril Hoogs pulled off some beautiful fielding stunts, and this error in judgment or poor coaching, whichever it was, shouldn't be held up against him.

Eleventh a Slaughter.

There was nothing doing on either side in the tenth although the Chinese got a man as far as second, but in the eleventh the deluge came and five men scored after the entire batting list had been at the plate. Lai Tin started off with a hit to right, and then Lang Akana set off the fireworks (literally) by hitting the ball on the nose for a homer over the right field fence. It was about the hardest hit ever seen on the grounds and the ball was still going up when Foster Robinson would not be surprising to find that the drive had holed-out in punchbow and that Akana had joined the golfers' holed-in-one club without knowing it.

This practically cinched the game, but a hit and three bad errors let three more men in before the agony ended.

The Puns lost a possible score, in the second, when Izard was caught napping on third, making the third out, with a good batter coming up. Again in the third they passed up a good chance.

The game was played in 1 hour 55 minutes and was exciting throughout, there being plenty of lightning plays in the infield and some fine work in the outer garden.

TOUCHDOWN IN LAST QUARTER SAVES A BLANK

BY HOWARD CASE.

By taking a brace in the fourth quarter working the ball into its opponent's territory by a series of line plunges and then sending Lionel Brush through for a touchdown in the last minute of play, the McKinley high school football team barely saved itself from being whitewashed by the fast Kamehameha squad on the latter's field Saturday afternoon, the score being 13 to 1 in favor of the cadets.

The defeat of the High school came as a surprise to the majority of those who saw the game, for it had been picked to win by a goodly score from start to finish, however, the Kamehameha men had things practically their own way due to the ragged work both on the offense and defense, of the Black and Gold aggregation.

The only interesting moment in the game was the High school's score in the last quarter, and even the McKinleyites did not play in their usual form, leaving the work to three or four of those players who have borne the brunt of the work during the entire season.

The heavy cadet team simply walked through the High school line, and the two touchdowns which the former made could have been prevented if the McKinley men had chosen to adhere to some of the valuable advice set forth by Coach Glenn Jackson. One of the most disgusting incidents of the contest, and one which would serve to make any student body throw up the sponge, happened near the close of the game when Ki Fong was called to go into the game from his place on the bench.

In spite of the urging of his fellow-players, Ki Fong refused to go into the contest and in the last quarter, when he was again called by his captain, only the keenest of urging caused him to take his place in the backfield.

A school has no use for such spirit as that displayed by Ki Fong, let alone a football team which has risen out of the ranks to almost a championship aggregation. And a football team has no use for players of this type, no matter how well they conduct themselves in the game.

The Kamehameha team never played a better game than it did Saturday, and the apparent ease with which it walked through the High school was a distinct surprise to the boosters of both elevens. George Manoha, the captain, Correa, Napihaa and Makani did the lion's share of the work, and were supported in fine shape by those who played on the line. There were certain persons on the field who, after the game, approached Referee Jackson and claimed that he had not given Kamehameha a square deal. But Captain Manoha of the cadets seemed to be pretty well pleased with Jackson's work, and after the last play came he shook hands with him and thanked him. Manoha is a true sportsman, as well as a good football and track man, and has no use for those people who rush in and complain. The result of the game places Kamehameha in line to play the Thanksgiving game, possibly with Punahou.

The first quarter of the game served to allow the teams to get warmed up, and after Kamehameha received the kick the ball was worked back and forth, changed hands a number of times, but neither aggregation was able to get within the other's danger territory. The second quarter saw the session of Kamehameha. A bad fumble set the Kama back several yards and on the next two downs they rushed the ball for 10 yards. A pass by Napihaa was received by Makani on the High's two-yard line and on Llewellyn Hart, whose tackling was a feature of the High-Kam game.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

SCHOFFIELD BARRACKS, Nov. 17. Schofield Barracks fans are greatly pleased that as a result of the negotiations of Manager Sammy Hop of the All-Chinese team, the 25th infantry team which won the post championship is to make its reappearance on the local diamonds. A series of five games has been arranged, three to be played in town and two on the 25th's diamond, the first game to be played on Saturday afternoon, probably on the Athletic park grounds in Honolulu. The All-Chinese with their large town following and the several hundred fans which will follow the post champions to town, assure the management of large gate receipts. The games here are sure to draw immense crowds and the stands on the cavalry grounds are to be borrowed to supplement the limited amount of seats the 25th grounds have at present. It is understood that a charge will be asked for the seats here but this will be well within the means of the soldier fans. Up to date the financial arrangements only include the opening of the 25th management having accepted a percentage giving 70 per cent to the winner and 30 per cent to the loser with a $100 guarantee to the visiting team. Arrangements will be made for the other games after the result of the first game is announced.

The arrangements began with a tentative agreement for L company of the 25th, the champion company team of that regiment, to play the All-Chinese, but as the advance advertising seemed to give the public the impression that the team would be a representative regimental team, and as the post and regimental units in urging the appearance of the All-Chinese, the regimental team has been called from its retirement and this is the team which will meet the town players. Colonel Kennon, who is particularly interested in the outcome of the series, has asked Lieutenant Saunders to resume the team management for the series and he has consented. Practice will begin today, and after their long rest and a week's practice together, the team should be very fit. As the series will extend over five weeks, it is not unlikely that there will be several players who have not figured before in the line-up. Collins, who led the post league in batting in the garrison series, and who made a remarkably fine fielding record for his team, is sick in the departmental hospital at Fort Shafter and his services will not be available for the opening game at least. His place will doubtless be taken by Slougher, who played in one of the former games with the All-Chinese, and who has been playing a brilliant game in the recent company games here. Scott has been discharged and unless he re-enlists before the series closes, the team will be deprived of his services. A start will be made with the old line-up and probably Jasper, who finished a splendid season's work and whom the All-Chinese have not yet faced, will be on the mound for the opening game. Williams, Whitehouse and perhaps Murcheson will take a turn in the box in the series.

No sporting announcement of any garrison event has given such general satisfaction as the news that these two big teams are to cross bats, and the post fans can be relied on to support the 25th team in a royal manner. No announcement has been made as to who will captain the soldier team for the series, but the signs point to Sergeant Hollingsworth. If the team has a successful start in the series it is understood here that it is not unlikely that they will be asked to participate in the inter-island games arranged for the Carnival.

JACK CORDELL SORE AT REPORT THAT HE HAD TAKEN A LEAVE

Highly indignant because he had been "balled out" as a runaway, Jack Cordell, who was to have fought Rufus Williams last Saturday night, called at the Star-Bulletin office this morning to prove that he had not left Honolulu on the Sierra Saturday, as stated in the morning paper.

"There was no reason for me to leave without telling people," said Cordell. "I refused to fight Williams because the promoting of the fight had been so rotten that the fighters' out of the gate would have been small change only. I'd like to get a fight here under good management, but the way things have gone, I don't know whether I can or not. I won't run away, though. When I left Honolulu the last time I could have traveled first class if I'd jumped my bills, but I paid up every cent I owed, and then worked my way out. I'll do it again if necessary."

Rufus Williams was much disappointed when he heard Saturday that Cordell had backed out of the fight. He wants to fight Piszczek on almost any sort of arrangement that will get the two men into the ring.

Aside from Cordell's former fight record here, no one can question his business judgment in backing out of Saturday's proposed fight. The show at the Liberty was given so little publicity that not even the local sporting writers knew first hand that it was to come off. Financially it would have been a bloomer, and the fighters were taking the chance of being beaten up for 50 per cent of a mighty slim gate.

TOWN TEAM TRIMS PUNAHOU FOR THE SECOND TIME THIS SEASON

Fumbles at Critical Points Yield Two Touchdowns Both of Which Are Converted—Townies Play Safe When They Have Commanding Lead and Ball Is in the Air Much of the Time

Town Team 14, Oahu College 0.

In a hard-fought and exciting game, the Town team, under the leadership of "Scotty" Schuman, won the football championship of Honolulu by defeating Oahu college Saturday afternoon on Alexander field. A bad pass and fumble at critical points practically gave the "Townies" the game.

About the middle of the first quarter Punahou received the ball on her six-yard line, and on a punt formation the ball was passed over Quintal's head and back of the goal. In an attempt to pick up the ball and carry it back onto the field, Quintal fumbled the pigskin, which was recovered by Moore, the "Townies' right tackle, behind the line. Again in the second quarter hard luck seemed to be with the Punahou team, for one of the O. C. backs fumbled the Town team's kick and the leather was recovered by the winners within 20 yards of their goal. At no other time was Punahou's goal in danger, the ball changing hands many times near the center of the field.

The Collegians played hard but were only able to go through the Rosa on the next buck. Here the Town team was forced to kick. Andrews sending the ball to Baldwin, who reeled off a few yards before being downed. The collegians lost on a fumble and were forced to kick. In the next two plays Schuman sent Leo and Rosa through for a total of 10 yards. This put fury into the O. C. line and Hind and McHenry both broke through and nailed the runner, forcing the Townies to kick again.

After making a couple of good runs the Oahuans received a penalty for being off sides and Quintal ordered a kick. The ball only went a short way and the Town squad held the ball on Punahou's 40-yard line. In the next play Renton received a bad cut on the forehead but continued to hold down his place. A bit of good tackling by Brown and Gray and an unsuccessful pass gave O. C. the ball, which they immediately kicked out. Again Brown nailed Hart and Gray, Leo, and this time the visitors kicked. On the first play Punahou was penalized five yards for being off sides and this gave them the leather on their six-yard line. At this point of the game the bad pass over Quintal's head and Moore's recovery gave the Townies their first score. Andrews sent the ball between the bars and the score stood, Town team 7, O. C. 0. The rest of the first quarter saw the ball change hands twice in the middle of the field with no special significance.

Second Quarter.
The next quarter opened with the ball in Oahu's possession near the middle of the field. A loss and a short gain and the leather was punted way into the Townies' territory. Schuman ordered the ball booted back and Andrews drove it 70 yards to E. Baldwin. Here the god of hard luck once more hovered over Punahou, for "Sleepy" was tackled in such a way that the ball was pulled from under his arm, to be recovered by the Town team. Two runs by Hart netted the "Townies" 10 yards, and then they saw the ball on O. C.'s four-yard line, from where Leo just got over for another score. Andrews' kick was good and the score stood, Townies 14, Oahu College 0.

Punahou again started the playing with a kick-off, which was received by Leo, who was downed in quick order. Achu was given the ball for a net loss and Bond got through and held Leo on the next run. Andrews gained seven yards on the next play, but the ball was a little behind the string and the pigskin was booted. The Oahuans followed next and Schuman was nailed on the next play. The rest of this period the ball remained in the central part of the field, the collegians holding the visitors and doing a lot of kicking. The end of the first half, Townies 14, Oahu College 0.

Third Quarter.
The visitors started the third quarter by kicking, the ball going over the line. In three plays Harry Baldwin made first down, only to have Punahou lose the pigskin through a fumble. During this part of the game, Ables, who was playing in Achu's place at full, was badly cut across the forehead and had to leave the field. Leo was now sent through the tackles for a first down in two bucks. On the following play the Town team was penalized for being off-side and was unable to make 15 yards, so the referee gave the ball to the collegians, who kicked. The ball again changed hands in the same way. During this part of the game Austin did some neat tackling. Schuman's squad was not able to make the required yardage so he ordered a kick, which was received by Baldwin 30 yards from his goal. Menohor took E. Baldwin's place and on his first run gained 20 yards, only to find that his team was off-side. Harry Baldwin next pulled off his spectacular run of 35 yards, giving O. C. the ball on the visitors' 35-yard mark. In this play Hart was badly hurt and Rosa had to take his place. The Townies got through and broke up the next two plays and the timekeeper called time. End of the third quarter, score: Town Team 14, Oahu College 0.

Last Quarter.
In the next quarter the leather remained near the center of the field
